

About Door County Habitat

People interested in addressing the affordable housing crisis began to meet in Door County in 1992. The following year, 1993, Door County Habitat for Humanity was officially registered with the Wisconsin Secretary of State as a non-profit organization. Our first Door County home was completed in 1994. Since that time, a total of 29 new homes have been built in Door County. During the first ten years of its existence, Habitat built an average of 1.5 homes annually. In recent years, home production has reached 2.5 dwellings annually.
